Spartanburg Water Announces New Hire

Spartanburg Water is pleased to announce the new hire of James T. (Ted) Williams to the position of Senior Procurement Specialist. In his new role, Ted is responsible for the development of specifications and bid documents and the administration and execution of the procurement process. He will also assist in the evaluation and award of recurring goods and service contracts and in monitoring activities of the daily procurement of inventory items.

Ted has nearly ten years of purchasing experience, most recently as a Product Development Project Manager at Bob Jones University Press. In addition, he has held leadership roles at Spartanburg Steel Products, Day & Zimmerman and Timken US Corporation. Ted has earned a Bachelors of Science Degree in Industrial Management from Georgia Institute of Technology and is a Certified Purchasing Manager (CPM).

Spartanburg Water – An Award Winning Utility
